(SABAH, Tawau 30 April 2020): The Samling Group of Companies has donated 80,000 surgical masks, 1,000 protective bodysuits, 50 thermometers, and 50 bottles of 500ml disinfectants to Sabah's Tawau Hospital to help combat the spread of the novel coronavirus or Covid-19.

The medical items were presented by the company's representative, Richard Ng to Dr. Norlimah Bt Arsad, Director of Tawau Hospital, and witnessed by her deputy, Jaclyn Gonduman, in a simple handing over ceremony at Tawau Hospital. Richard was accompanied by Subramanian and Jose Mangaliag.

According to Samling's CEO, Lawrence Chia in a statement, Samling is doing its best to help relieve shortages of much-needed medical supplies by hospitals in the state. It has always been our duty to assist the government and the community at large during this difficult time, says Chia.

Samling had earlier donated medical items to Lahad Datu hospital, and our next recipient is Kinabatangan Hospital.
